KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Ann Ferguson is Program Coordinator for Presbyterian Women in Louisville, Kentucky. Ann, originally from Texas, got to Louisville by way of Louisiana where she was Director of Christian Education at a church in the New Orleans area. As program coordinator for Presbyterian Women her primary responsibility is to coordinate and support the work of the Churchwide Coordinating Team. She has the joy and the privilege of working with women across the church. Before responding to God's call to a church vocation, Ann worked in a variety of positions. She was vice president of the Ferguson family business, volunteer coordinator for an interfaith outreach agency, and executive director of a Second Harvest food bank serving thirteen counties in north Texas. Ann says that while her title and position may change, she is an educator and approaches every task from that perspective. Ann enjoys needlework, reading everything she picks up, travel, and new experiences. She holds a Master of Christian Education from Union/PSCE in Richmond, Virginia and has done doctoral work in Leadership Education at Spaulding University.
